

FIRE PROTECTION FOR THE VILLAGE OF WARDSVILLE

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY OF ANY TYPE, CALL 911 IMMEDIATELY

This will get you Ambulance, Fire, or Police response as those services are dispatched out of Jefferson City dispatch center.

To report a controlled burn, please call the Jefferson City dispatch Center's non-emergency number at 573-634-6400.

The Village of Wardsville is served by the Osage Fire Protection District (OFPD).

Wardsville is home to Station Number 2, which serves as the department's headquarters. We are located at 6708 Rt. W, in Wardsville, Missouri.

The station currently houses a brush truck, 2 tankers, and an engine. Since the station has had a recent remodel and expansion of the station, we also have a Cole County EMS ambulance.

It is very important to note that as a volunteer fire department, the station is NOT staffed 24 hours a day. This is why it is important to call 911 for any emergencies.

Osage Fire Protection District has been providing fire protection and emergency services to the Village of Wardsville since 2001. Osage Fire Protection District (OFPD) is a volunteer fire department with around 35 volunteers covering approximately 75 square miles in Eastern Cole County. OFPD covers the areas of Osage Bend, Osage City, Toas, and Wardsville.
